Supplementary Fig. 1. Representative computed tomography images of the gluteus maximus (A) and quadriceps (B). The white outline of regions of interest was used to measure the cross-sectional area and Hounsfield units (arrows).